*Tanya Vinci and Irene Holifield of Sherwin Williams,
Mentoring their small group at Willson School, 2019*

As a mentor, you can help shape—
and be shaped by—Cleveland’s future leaders.

True2U mentors are dedicated facilitators, working in teams with small groups of students to help them

- Find their strengths
- Explore their interests and career pathways
- Check out their high school options from 30+ in the CMSD portfolio
- Reflect on and embrace their core values
- Build a personal brand based on their values and
- Accept and celebrate who they are. . .

So they can be true to themselves—now and in the future.

Still have questions? Call Molly, Khalid, Lindsay or Tiara, (216) 812-8700 or send an email to true2u@neighborhoodleadership.org.

Mentors serve in teams of two or three to guide students along the True2U path through the school year.

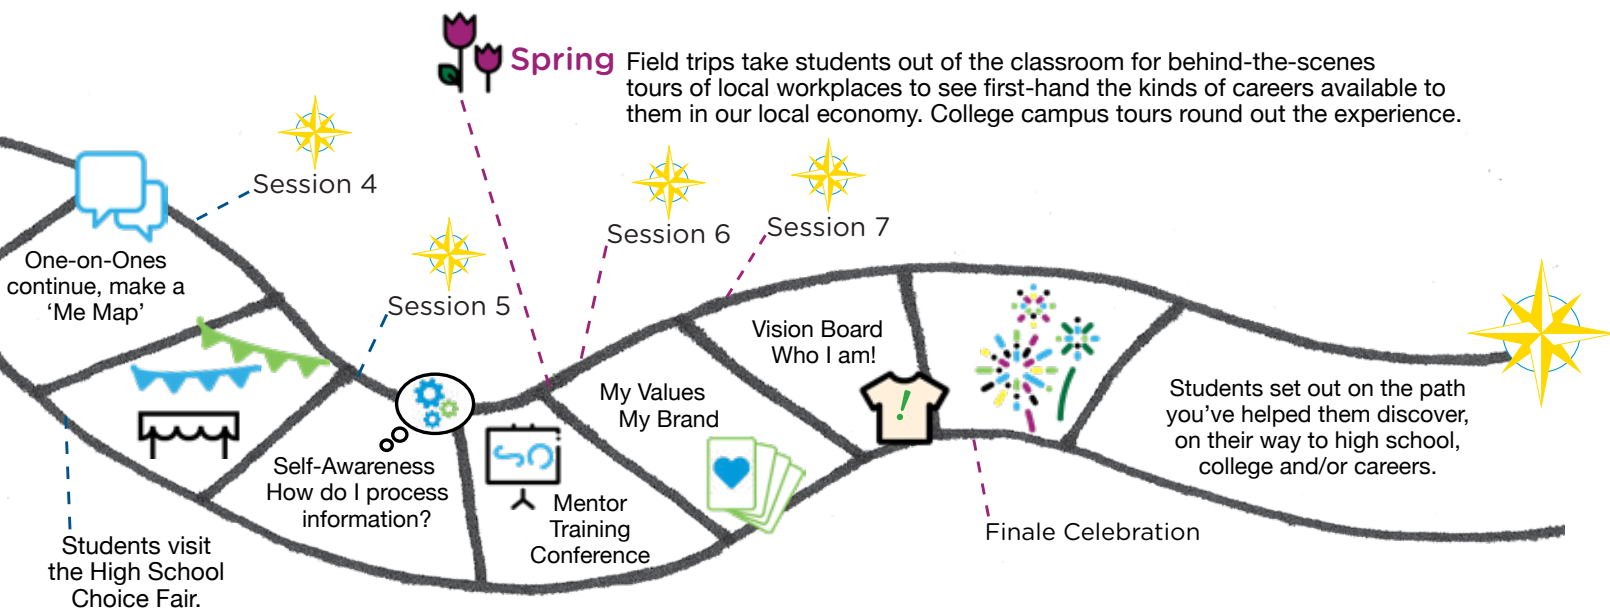

Do you remember being in the 8th grade? Did you know who you were and what you were going to be, or did someone help you think it through? Maybe you wish there was someone like that back then. Did you learn something along the way—from that moment to this?

True2U is the hands-on volunteer program that gives you the space and time to share what you've learned along your career path with today's 8th graders. It includes an engaging curriculum you'll deliver one Thursday morning a month, and the training to do it well.

Just sharing your story with Cleveland students, and being a steady partner along the journey, will have ripple effects for the students and our city, for years to come.
